

Small HD mixer is big news at Mediatech 2015

Macro Video Pty Ltd, the distributors of Datavideo in southern Africa, will be launching their new SE-700 four-input standalone HD mixer/ switcher at Mediatech 2015

The SE-700 was received with rave reviews at NAB in Las Vegas during its debut there in April with Church Production Magazine (USA), picking it as one of the top five products of NAB 2015.

Datavideo SE-700 will be an ideal HD upgrade path for many clients using the SE-500 SD mixer and is aimed at houses of worship, schools, smaller production companies, podcasters, etc. It is completely standalone and does not require a PC/ MAC or tablet to drive it.

This extremely affordable four input HD video switcher offers a fantastic array of features, which include:

Two HD-SDI and two HDMI inputs and two HD-SDI (assignable) and one HDMI (assignable) output; Chromakey (with possible dual chromakey to come as a future software upgrade); Lumakey, Downstream keying, PIP (picture-in-picture); Frame store, Stereo XLR inputs and Ethernet control; as well as Tally to connect to Datavideo ITC Comms and Tally units.

IDEAL HD UPGRADE: The Datavideo SE-700 HD mixer / switcher